

~~That goes against our policy.~~

We can help.

Inscape.

Yes in so many ways.

We all know there's no denying that there's no shortage of the word no. We hear no coming at us from all directions – from our restaurant servers who can't do that, to our home contractors who say it's impossible, to our kids who flat out refuse – it seems that no knows no bounds.

So when it comes to creating incredible spaces, imagine a place that's all about Yes. Yes to customization. Yes to that color. We can definitely make that model work. We can certainly accommodate that time frame. And you can absolutely rest assured that in the end, you'll see your new space, and simply say Yes.

This is Inscape.
Yes in so many ways.

Is Inscape furniture adaptable?

Totally.

Let's talk workspaces.

So much more than a desk, Inscape offers patented products that let you transform workspaces with ease. Both our System and Bench use universal components that allow for limitless applications, including low and high panel workstations, benching, collaborative work areas and private spaces. Easily reconfigure (yes, really) as required – you can even add sit/stand worksurfaces later. Our true lay-in cabling speeds up installation and change – saving money and getting employees back in their workspaces sooner. Whether you need a sleek low-profile collaborative bench or a solution with more privacy and storage, we can effortlessly meet your style and preference. More choice means not only a solution that designers can easily customize today, but one that can be adapted as future needs change.

The Yes List

01

We've been in the Yes business since 1888.

02

As a small but mighty company, we're nimble enough to rarely say no.

Can Inscape help me with storage?

In more ways than one.

So many things, so little space.

Thinking about storage first is a smarter way to plan workspaces. You can reduce workstation footprints, lower station heights, improve ergonomics and personalize storage – all with fewer components to manage.

Our Planning Storage collection offers innovative approaches to office design that work whether you're starting something new or wanting to integrate with existing systems and products to refresh the floor plan. We also offer the best quality and widest selection of freestanding and workstation storage – plus the freedom to create a distinctive design. Completely flexible in size and style, our products deliver storage efficiency, functional flexibility and design versatility, each in so many ways.

03

Yes to everyone! Our products integrate with each other and even with other manufacturers.

04

Change your mind? Durable steel casing means you can reconfigure to your heart's content.

05

Yes to simplicity. We work with a deliberately minimal, but very flexible set of components.

What about sound and walls?

Sounds like Yes.

If these walls could talk, they'd still be silent.

Build just the wall you need to address acoustic, visibility, aesthetic and security requirements. Our wall solutions create endless possibilities. Flexibility, scalability and customization let you create inspiring spaces with any degree of privacy – or collaboration – you require.

With architectural solutions that fit a wide range of office needs, Inscape will work with you to ensure every aspect of your environment is well-considered. Want Italian design but domestic lead times? Sure thing. Need high performing moveable walls? We're listening. Don't want the people next door to hear? Not a problem. That's the sound of Yes.

06

Choose any color you want,
where you want it.

07

We make special requests easy with our 48 hour quotes and our collaborative approach.

08

A single point of contact makes execution as easy as saying Yes.

~~Hang on,
someone around here might know.~~

Done.

Since 1888 Inscap has lived by a simple product design philosophy. One that delights users, empowers technology, and fosters agility. With a wide dealer network, showrooms in both Canada and the U.S., and full service and support for all of our clients, our philosophy is to always do what we can to say Yes.

See more Yes at inscapesolutions.com

inscape
Yes in so many ways.